

Trenchless lateral replacement process

The illustration depicts a typical jobsite with the PortaBurst[®] system set up at the house. Alternatively, the unit can be set up in the basement or at the clean out. The PortaBurst unit pulls the burst head through the lateral, bursting the existing service, while simultaneously pulling in the new HDPE pipe the same size as the old pipe or a size larger.

